Disclaimer

The material on our Web site has been prepared and published for informational purposes only. There is no effort or intention to solicit new clients or new engagements from existing clients by way of this web site; nor should any of the information published on the web site be construed as representing any of our lawyers' availability to practice in jurisdictions where they are not authorized to do so.

None of these materials is offered, nor should be construed, as legal advice. Communication of information by or through this web site and your receipt or use of such information is not intended to create an attorney-client relationship with Acevedo Belt, P.A. or any of the firm's attorneys. The creation of the attorney-client relationship requires direct, personal contact between you and our firm through one or more attorneys and would also require an explicit agreement by the firm that confirms that an attorney-client relationship is established and the terms of that relationship. You should not act or rely upon information contained in these materials without specifically seeking professional legal advice.

The description anywhere on this web site of the results of any specific case or transaction does not mean or suggest that similar results can or could be obtained in any other matter. Each legal matter should be considered to be unique and subject to varying results.

This site offers links to other resources on the Internet merely as a convenience to our readers. We do not take any responsibility for the content, accuracy or timeliness of those other sites; nor do we endorse any commercial products that may be advertised or available on those sites.

Acevedo Belt, P.A has endeavored to comply with all applicable legal and ethical requirements in compiling this site. Under no circumstances will Acevedo Belt undertake any engagement that conflicts with any ethical, statutory or other requirement applicable to the performance of professional legal services.
